A photo provided by the Santa Fe Animal Shelter showing veterinarian Dr. Jennifer Steketee holding Meow, a two-year-old tabby at the shelter in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Meow, arrived at the shelter weighing in at over 18kg, after his elderly owner could no longer care for the feline. The shelter plans to put the cat on a special diet so it can lose weight gradually. Adult cats typically weigh between 3.18kg and 5.44kg. — AP
